Attorney Jesse Young Named 2011 “Volunteer of the Year” by Habitat for Humanity

Sommers Schwartz attorney Jesse Young was named 2011 Volunteer of the Year by Habitat for Humanity for Western Wayne. Before becoming an attorney, Mr. Young was a licensed builder who owned and operated a successful residential construction business. In 2010, he began putting his building skills and expertise into action with Habitat as a volunteer Site Supervisor. In his time with Habitat, he has worked on five homes. He supervises large crews of volunteers on the weekends, teaching them how to do everything from building walls and garages to installing roofs, siding, doors and windows. Mr. Young has also volunteered his legal services to Habitat.

Mr. Young’s law practice focuses primarily on employment litigation, business litigation, and collective actions. He represents employees in need of help with severance negotiations, wage and hour disputes, discrimination, and retaliation. Additionally, Mr. Young represents persons and businesses experiencing contractual disputes and/or business torts.
